MARTIN LUTHER KING JR. DAY

Sue Livers listens as Jill Koren (right) remembers Martin Luther King Jr. during Monday's event in Madison to celebrate King's life. "What I have learned is the past is not dead; that it's not even past," and that work of justice continues.

BZA OKs jail variance, animal swap meet

BY MARK CAMPBELL

Although footers have been poured and the steel superstructure is going up, the Jefferson County Sheriff's Office and Criminal Justice Center cleared another hurdle last week when the Madison Board of Zoning Appeals approved a variance allowing the new county jail to be located in an area zoned heavy industry on Madison's hilltop.

The jail site has been selected for months, funding approved, bids let and construction started but somewhere in all of that an actual variance allowing the jail to be located in the middle of an area zoned heavy industry was never sought.

The property selected for the jail did not include specifications that it could be used for a jail or prison — a potential issue considering jail construction is well underway — but the site was otherwise the best of several considered by the Jefferson County Commission and has been widely accepted by both the city and county.

"We need to get this squared away," said County Commissioner David Bramer, who was on hand to speak on behalf of the request. Bramer said neglecting to obtain the variance was an oversight and that the consensus is that the 50-acre site at JA Berry Lane is the best location for the new jail. He said the county had "other sites in mind" but none had the combination of location and amenities needed to support the 300-bed facility that will end up costing taxpayers about $45 million.

5 Madison County schools going virtual this week

Anderson, Lydia join MJHS, MCHS and Muncie

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Anderson and Lydia Middleton elementaries joined Madison Consolidated High School, Madison Junior High School and E.O. Muncie Junior/Senior High School in shifting to virtual learning this week.

On Friday, the announcement was made that MCHS, MJHS and E.O. Muncie were all going virtual this week but Anderson was added on Sunday and Lydia Middleton on Monday due a strain on staffing and pockets of COVID-19 spread among students.

As of Monday afternoon, Rykers' Ridge Elementary School and Deputy Elementary were continuing with in-person instruction, but Madison Consolidated Schools coordinator Ashley Schutte said school officials remain flexible to respond to whatever the current situation requires regarding staffing and illnesses. "It's minute-to-minute, but as of now ... Rykers' Ridge and Deputy are still in-person," she said.On Friday, Jefferson County reported 79 new cases of COVID-19 while Carroll County had 69 new cases, Switzerland County had 34 new cases and Trimble County had 33 new cases. Positivity rates were Jefferson County, 18.3%; Carroll County, 33.15%; Switzerland County, 23.1%; and Trimble County, 36.09%. There were no new deaths reported locally on Friday.

In Indiana, there were 15,926 new positive cases of COVID-19 to bring the overall total to 1,425,877, and 97 new deaths to make the total 19,491. Indiana's positivity is 28.9%.

Kentucky had 13,492 new positive cases for an overall total of 975,346 and 35 new deaths to make the total 12,518. Kentucky's positivity rate is 28.61%.

Shot clinic set to get kids on track

BY THE COURIER STAFF

During the COVID-19 pandemic an estimated 43% of Jefferson County children have fallen behind on the routine shots that protect them from serious illnesses so a local event has been scheduled for Thursday, Jan. 20, to help families get "back on track."

After the pandemic hit, nearly all doctor appointments to keep people healthy were canceled, including shots for kids. According to Indiana Department of Health (IDOH) school reports, 43% of Jefferson County K-12 students have not gotten all required shots.

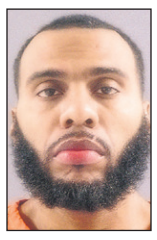
Vevay pursuit ends in Jefferson County

BY THE COURIER STAFF

A Saturday morning traffic stop in Vevay led to a two-county pursuit on State Road 62 west through Vevay and into Jefferson County before a combination of tie deflation devices and the suspect's mistake of turning into a barricaded driveway brought the chase to a conclusion.



Eric Michael Payne

Vevay Police were called to the 200 block of West Main Street at about 5:30 a.m. Saturday for a vehicle that was stopped in the street and blocking traffic.

Sgt. Drew Gibbs and Cpl. David Wolf responded with Gibbs activating his vehicle's emergency lights and attempting to make contact with the driver of the vehicle by knocking on the window. That's when the driver fled, making a right turn onto Main Cross Street, then at the end of the street turning around in an open field to head south on Main Cross Street.

The driver then turned right onto Main Street and continued west on State Road 56 through Vevay and Switzerland County and into Jefferson County.

About a dozen miles down the road, Switzerland County Sheriff's Deputy Ryan Harrison was able to successfully deploy stop sticks to the vehicle on State Road 56 at Doe

Mary Eisenhardt

Mary Louise Eisenhardt, 96, of Madison, Indiana, died Thursday, Jan. 13, 2022, at the Thornton Terrace Health Campus in Hanover, Indiana.

She was born on July 30, 1925, in Madison, to Ebenezer Webster and Leona Doris Leinenweber Eisenhardt. She was a graduate of Madison High School and matriculated to Hanover College, earning a bachelor's degree in 1947 and later a master's degree from Indiana University. Her lifelong career in education and athletics began in the New Albany and Salem, Indiana, school systems, teaching health and physical education. She later returned to her hometown in 1953 and taught and coached at Madison until her retirement in 1991. Her participation in intramural sports while attending college inspired her very early in her career to introduce female athletics into competitive high school sports by establishing girls' basketball, volleyball, softball, swimming and tennis teams at Madison. Her career was noted in 1990 with the Marian Archer Award, a state award for outstanding achievement in women's athletics, and after leading several of her teams to sectional and semistate finals and track and swimming athletes to state the finals. She was inducted into the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame in 2006 and her distinguished coaching career was also honored in 2015 when the track at Madison Consolidated High School was named "Mary Louise Eisenhardt Track." She was particularly pleased to be recognized by Girls Inc. as recipient of the "She Knows Where She's Going" Award in 2013. She sponsored the Girls Athletic Association and was a driving spirit in the Madison Cubs Booster Club. She taught swimming and lifesaving courses for the City of Madison and the American Red Cross at the Crystal Beach Complex, as well as maintaining a near-daily constitution of walking her central west end neighborhood and the Madison riverfront. She was a devoted member of Trinity United Methodist Church in downtown Madison where she served on various boards and committees for many years and volunteering in the service of others.

Survivors include her cousins, Joyce Hooker Ashbrook of Hanover, Shirley Hooker Griffith of Pearland, Texas, Harry Leinenweber, Mark Hooker Ashbrook, Alicia Nay, Tobey Nay-Tucker, Kenda Louise Marsh, Lori Vorwerk, and several other relatives.

She was preceded in death by her parents; her cousins Sandra Hooker Nay and Kenneth Griffith; and her special friends, John and Betty McKinney.

Funeral services will be at 1 p.m. on Thursday, Jan. 20, at Trinity United Methodist Church in downtown Madison. Interment will follow in Springdale Cemetery in downtown Madison. Visitation is 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. on Wednesday at the Morgan & Nay Funeral Centre in Madison and noon until time of services Thursday at the church.

Memorial contributions may be made to Trinity United Methodist Church through the funeral home. Online condolences and memorials, www.morgan-nay.com.

She was raised in Mitchell and graduated in 1977 from Mitchell High School. During her school years she participated in 4-H showing her sheep and beef cattle. She enjoyed playing softball and was raised in the First Baptist Church in Mitchell. She went to culinary school at Sullivan College and became a chef. She worked as a chef for the Historic Broadway Hotel and Restaurant which her sister, Libby had purchased in 1992. She worked there for twenty years and had worked at Belterra Casino and Resort in food service and as a chef for ten years. On August 1, 1997 she was united in marriage to Emery D. Myers and they resided in Jefferson County. She was blessed to raise her son, Nathan Addison Mann and was blessed with three grandchildren. Kathy was a very social being, never met a stranger, lived life to the fullest and brought sunshine to any place she was at. She was an awesome cook, loved playing bingo, extremely patriotic, devout supporter of President Trump, the best sister, mom, aunt and friend. Kathy had a passion for animals and loved her dog, Sheba and her cat, Honey. Kathy passed on Tuesday, January 11, 2022, at her home in downtown Madison, Indiana.

Let Us Pause To Honor The Memory Of

Mary Louise Eisenhardt

Mary Louise Eisenhardt of Madison, Indiana, entered this life on July 30, 1925, in Madison, the daughter of the late Ebenezer Webster and Leona Doris Leinenweber Eisenhardt. She was a graduate of the old Madison High School and matriculated to Hanover College, earning a bachelor's degree in 1947, later earning a master's degree from Indiana University. Her life-long career in education and athletics began in the New Albany and Salem, Indiana school systems, teaching health and physical education. She later returned to her beloved hometown of Madison in 1953 to coach and teach until her retirement in 1991. Her participation in intramural sports while attending college inspired her very early in her career to introduce female athletics into competitive high school sports by establishing the girls' basketball, volleyball, softball, swimming and tennis teams at Madison. Her career was noted in 1990 with the Marian Archer Award (state award for outstanding achievement in women's athletics) and after leading several of her teams to sectional and semi state finals as well as several track and swimming athletes to state finals, her induction into the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame in 2006 was secured. Her distinguished coaching career was also honored in 2015 by the naming of the track at Madison Consolidated High School the "Mary Louise Eisenhardt Track", and she was particularly pleased to be recognized by Girls Inc. as a recipient of the "She Knows Where She's Going" Award in 2013. Mary Louise is remembered for sponsoring the Girls Athletic Association and being one of the driving spirits for the Madison Cubs Booster Club. She also is remembered for her many years of teaching swimming and lifesaving courses for the City of Madison and the American Red Cross at the Crystal Beach Complex, as well as keeping her near-daily constitution of walking her central west end neighborhood and the Madison riverfront. She was a devoted member of Trinity United Methodist Church in downtown Madison where she served on various boards and committees for many years, volunteering countless hours in the service of others. Mary Louise passed away, secure in her faith, on Thursday, January 13, 2022, at the Thornton Terrace Health Campus in Hanover, Indiana.

A LOVING FAMILY

Mary Louise will be missed by her loving cousins, Joyce Hooker Ashbrook of Hanover, Indiana, Shirley Hooker Griffith and her husband, Norman of Pearland, Texas, the Hon. Harry Leinenweber and his wife, Lynn Martin, Mark Hooker Ashbrook, Alicia Nay, Tobey Nay-Tucker, Kenda Louise Marsh, Lori Vorwerk, and several other relatives. She was preceded in death by her father, Ebenezer Webster Eisenhardt, her mother, Leona Doris Leinenweber; her cousins Sandra Hooker Nay and Kenneth Griffith, and her special friends: John and Betty McKinney.

FUNERAL CEREMONY

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday, January 20, 2022, at 1:00 pm, by Rev. Dr. Doug Walker at the Trinity United Methodist Church, 412 West Main Street in Downtown Madison, Indiana. Interment will follow in the Springdale Cemetery in Madison, Indiana.

A new approach to thank-you notes

ANNIE LANE
DEAR ANNIE

Dear Annie: I am the person who wrote to you a few years ago about sending a box of thank-you notes and Forever Stamps as gifts to nonresponders. It was not very successful. This year, I rethought the problem and decided to be straightforward, at least with my own five grandchildren, who range in age from 11 to 25.

I decided that if I didn't tell them, I shouldn't expect them to read my mind. I told them straight out what my expectations would be going forward. "If I give you a gift in person," I said, "you open it in front of me, and you thank me, and that is sufficient. If I send you a gift in the mail, I expect a timely communication saying that it has arrived and was appreciated."

I explained that I don't text, so I would need a phone call or email to inform me that the gift had actually arrived and was not lifted by a porch pirate. I told them that, henceforth, I would be maintaining two lists: a "gift" list, and a "cards only" list. If they don't contact me in a timely fashion, they will be bumped to the "cards only" list.

One hasn't been here to get his gift yet; one opened his gift in my presence; one called me from out of state, and we had a nice chat; and one opened his gift in my presence but called me anyway, saying, "Granny, I just wanted to be sure I stay on the 'gift' list."

I haven't heard from the last, the 11-year-old, so I will stick to my word when his birthday comes later in January. At some point, I might give him another chance, but NOT this year.

Seems like this will work! — Saying It Straight

Dear Saying It Straight: I love this approach. You are correct that people are not mind readers, and being direct with your expectations will help prevent many irritations before they become serious problems.

Dear Annie: "Numb and Lost" wrote to you regarding emotional detachment as a result of trauma and challenges in their life and struggles with finding proper therapy. As a 37-year-old male who has had difficulties and consequent challenges in therapy, I can relate.

In many ways, finding good therapy is its own battle, on top of the battle presented by whatever it is that causes us to seek therapy in the first place. It's not fair, and it can make an already difficult situation seem all the more hopeless, but persistence is key.

I recommend the National Alliance on Mental Illness, or NAMI, as a starting point for anyone looking for help with their mental health. They can provide resources specific to a person's location and situation. You can find them at NAMI.org.

Trying to find a good therapist can be a difficult journey. Take one step at a time. When you find a good one, it's well worth it. — Persistent Waddler

Dear Persistent Waddler: You are correct that finding a good therapist can be a battle in and of itself. But it is well worth it. As Thomas Carlyle wrote, "Permanence, perseverance and persistence in spite of all obstacles, discouragements, and impossibilities: It is this, that in all things distinguishes the strong soul from the weak." Thank you for your letter.

Good father, bad husband

ANNIE LANE
DEAR ANNIE

Dear Annie: I have been married for more than 24 years, and we have three wonderful daughters. My husband has always been a wonderful father and an OK husband.

However, he has always treated me with a lot of disrespect, and over the years, I always brushed it off because he was such a great dad to my daughters and because he provided everything for me.

But as we all get older, he is treating our youngest daughter in the same way as he has treated me. This is upsetting her every day, and I have told him numerous times to stop, and he just continues to do this.

I am ready to leave him, which I have told him many times, but he doesn't believe me.

Honestly, I can't take it anymore. I have asked him to talk to someone, but he says I have the issue. I just can't do this life anymore. Please help! — Torn About What To Do

Dear Torn: It is understandable that watching your husband mistreat your youngest daughter is going to be the last straw. Your mother bear instincts are in full force, and you can't watch your husband hurt your daughter the way he has hurt you for all these years.

I question whether he was a great father, even if he was kind to the girls, because disrespecting their mother in front of them is not modeling good behavior and will lead them to think they deserve to be treated like that in a relationship. If he won't go to counseling with you, then you should consult a therapist for yourself first.

Best of luck to you and your family. Hoping that your husband will be able to see how his behavior is so toxic and harmful.

Dear Annie: Every year, my husband and I, having no children of our own, travel several states away to spend a few days around Christmas with my sister and her husband and their grown children and grandchildren — a total of 13 to 15 in all.

Not everyone stays at her house, but we all gather there throughout the day and eat our meals there.

Even though the kids are pretty well-behaved and people help out with the cooking and cleaning, the hostess — my sister — gets very stressed out and generally ends up mad and upset.

Every year, I think I won't go, because of the chaos. But I always end up going because I know the time is coming when this gathering won't be possible.

How can I adjust my thinking so I can enjoy this event more? Or should I give myself permission to stay home? — Not Really Enjoying Christmas

Dear Not Really Enjoying Christmas: You're not alone. Many people find the holidays stressful, and family feuds often develop. In your case, the person who is really not enjoying Christmas is the one who is hosting and doing all the work.

Instead of judging your sister's mood, why not talk to her beforehand and see how you can help? Maybe if she has her sister by her side, her spirits will lift and she won't end up angry and upset.

Cable board makes shift from cable TV to online

Vote unanimous to cut the cable

BY BOB DEMAREE

The Jefferson County Cable Advisory Board voted unanimously Thursday to shift all Jefferson County government programming online and make last year's suspension of programming on its two cable television public access channels permanent.

The vote came after a motion by board member Jim Bartlett to "cease programming on the cable side in anticipation of growing and expanding our visibility on Facebook and YouTube."

Governmental programming had been a routine feature of TV15 until last March — much of that programming broadcast on local public access channels secured from Metronet and Spectrum as part of their franchise agreements — when operations ceased due to funding issues, which included terminating the contract of then station manager Aaron Paul Wood, and difficulties in connecting with the cable interface with the TV15's equipment. The City of Madison opted to provide its own streaming service online and challenged the CAB to reorganize and regroup or face possible defunding.

A couple of months later, some county meetings again began being recorded and webcast on the Cable Advisory Board's Facebook page, which was named Jefferson County Community Television.

Thursday's decision to shut down its cable station was bolstered by a report received recently from Madison Deputy Mayor Mindy McGee that determined the change will not impact franchise fees paid by the two local cable companies. McGee had contacted the Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission last summer, and the response was that there's nothing in statute that requires the use of the funds in any certain way. Additionally, their research determined that only 11 of more than 120 cities in Indiana still use cable to promote the community or bring transparency to government; that the overwhelming majority have moved to streaming content through YouTube, Facebook and other sources.

Lori Hedges, elected board president at the start of the meeting, noted "The biggest problem we have with our station is that the equipment we have is out-of-date. It's standard definition, and it would cost a lot of money to update, which is money that we don't have." Additionally, Hedges said she thinks most people "are going to Internet television."

Hedges said a YouTube page was recently created for Jefferson County Community Television, which provides a place for county residents not on Facebook to view the programming. In addition, Hedges said the streaming options allow citizens to view the programming anytime they want, rather than a scheduled time like they were shown on the cable channels. "That's way more convenient for people," she said.

However, Hedges said there remains a limited option for the local governmental programming to be shown on cable in that Hanover College has available a short 2:30 block of time in which Hedges said permission has been granted for the Cable Advisory Board to use.

"I want to thank Hanover College for having assisted us to put things on the air up to this point, and for being willing to continue that practice," said Bartlett. "That aside, though, in terms of running our own channel, putting it back on the air is an expense that we don't have the funding. The other thing is that the trends for communication are simply moving away from cable in a hurry and moving into video on-demand or streaming video which we're currently doing in a limited fashion. It makes sense to me for us to make a decision to not pursue putting the cable station back on the air" and instead focus on developing quality programming through streaming.

In addition to Hedges, as president, other new officers for the year include Bartlett as treasurer and last year's president. Jan Kroger, taking over as secretary.

In other business, the board wants to move forward in updating its interlocal agreement to decrease the board membership from nine to six with two each representing Jefferson County, the Town of Hanover and City of Madison. The plan is to reach out to those three governmental entities to make that change. The change could help the board to more easily reach a quorum. With a six-member board, quorum can be reached with four members instead of the current five. Before Thursday's meeting, the board had last met in October.

While updating the interlocal agreement, the board also wants all references to a cable channel be taken out.

Man facing drug charge after arrest on warrants

James Charles Edward McCarty

BY THE COURIER STAFF

A Jefferson County man wanted on warrants from Switzerland and Scott counties was arrested by Madison Police Saturday and now faces felony drug charges here.

Madison Police arrested James Charles Edward McCarty, 23, Madison, during a traffic stop at approximately 9:35 a.m. for false/fictitious registration. During that stop, police discovered that McCarty was also wanted on an active warrant out of Switzerland County for probation violation in connection with a Criminal Mischief case as well as an active misdemeanor warrant in Scott County for Theft.

McCarty's problems were then compounded when a search of his person and vehicle by Patrolman Trent Smith and his K-9 partner Colt, recovered methamphetamine and drug paraphernalia resulting a felony and a misdemeanor charge and a trip to the Jefferson County Jail.

McCarty faces local charges of Possession of Methamphetamine, a Level 6 felony, and Possession of Paraphernalia, A Class C misdemeanor.

McCarty is being held in the Jefferson County Jail without bond.

Run Road. The vehicle continued on for a few miles with a tire deflated until turning off State Road 56 into a barricaded driveway where the driver was taken into custody without further incident.

Police arrested Eric Michael Payne, 35, of Cincinnati, on preliminary charges of Resisting Law Enforcement by Fleeing, a Level 6 felony; Operating While Intoxicated-Endangerment, a Class A misdemeanor; Reckless Driving, a Class B misdemeanor; and Operating While Intoxicated, a Class C misdemeanor.

Although it was unclear why Payne fled the officers, he was transported to Switzerland County Jail. A passenger in the vehicle was initially detained, but later released.

Vevay Police Department was assisted by the Switzerland County Sheriff's Office, Jefferson County Sheriff's Office and Madison Police Department.

"One site was too close to our gateway and a site at JPG (Jefferson Proving Ground) the cost to bring utilities would have been prohibitive," Bramer said.

In the end, the only question for Board of Zoning Appeals members was how to grant the variance and under which permitted use. Since it's a permanent structure — the jail will likely occupy the site for decades — the conditional use would not be temporary and the variance needs to stay with the property to allow future growth or expansion.

Board members said although the jail is different than heavy industry, the facility has enough acreage and with proper use, the site should blend in with other industrial developments and probably be an asset to the zone.

"It should be an asset to the health and safety and general welfare of the county," BZA member Rick Ferris said, later adding, "I see no substantial adverse affects to adjacent property."

"A jail is sadly one of the most necessary things to maintain public safety," BZA Chairman Scott Baldwin noted. "This project has been underway for some time and there have been no repercussions."

In other business, the BZA approved a conditional use permit for Susan Smith to operate an animal swap and farmers market on her North K Road farm near Madison with provisions that the permit is renewable in the future.

The operation has been heavily objected to — and heavily supported — at previous meetings before BZA voted to allow the swap/market to proceed on a trial basis from June to October in 2021. Citing no issues with that trial, the BZA said it is time to let the group hold its events without further interference.

However, there will be conditions including: operation limited to fourth Saturday of month with hours of 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., that health and safety and emergency action plans be in place, no camping, no amplified music, no fireworks, no campfires, no alcohol consumption and animal (no pets) swaps only. Food is limited to refreshments and vendors limited to two. Garden produce and eggs from the farm may be sold. A bouncy house and petting zoo will be allowed.

That compares to 26.4% statewide for K-12 students.

To help families catch up and get children "back on track" with their shots, MDwise and the IDOH are hosting Back on Track, from 3 p.m. to 7 p.m. on Thursday at the Indiana National Guard Armory in Madison, 1530 Clifty Drive.

All routine childhood vaccinations including measles, mumps, rubella, polio and HPV will be available, as well as flu shots and, for those 12 and older, COVID vaccines.

"It's important that as many Hoosier kids as possible get vaccinated against preventable diseases like measles, polio and HPV," said Jessica Cromer, president and CEO of MDwise. "We're hosting 'Back on Track' to help ensure Indiana communities and families are healthy."

The event is open to everyone — in fact non-residents of Jefferson County including families from out of state — are welcome to attend. Free food from Gleaners Food Bank of Indiana Inc. and free school supplies will be given away while supplies last and drawings will also take place for door prizes of $50 gift cards.

Parents and caregivers should sign up online at patients.vaxcare.com/registration (enter enrollment code IN97832, then select Back on Track Madison). Registration is encouraged but not required. Those from out of state are encouraged, but not required, to bring a copy of their shot records to make sure they receive the shots they need.

Anyone who needs help with transportation to get to the event should call MDwise customer service at 800-356-1204.

Children younger than 18 years old must be accompanied by an adult with valid identification, such as a driver's license, identification card or passport. Insurance is not required for qualified children to get their shots, but if they are covered by health insurance, that information must be given.

David Campbell

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

Southwestern hit two-thirds of its shot attempts in the first half and pulled away for a dominating 70-47 win over Switzerland County in boys basketball Friday in Vevay.

The Pacers were playing without leading scorer Cam Craig, but with the way the Rebels were shooting the ball, it might not have mattered. Leading by just one at the end of the first quarter, Southwestern scored the first 16 points of the second quarter and never looked back, rolling to the Ohio River Valley Conference win.

"(Switzerland) came out and played hard and I don't think our kids really imagined they would have that kind of intensity," Southwestern coach Zac Nussbaum said. "But I give credit to our kids. After they got punched in the mouth, they bounced back and I thought the rest of the game was pretty good."

Craig has had an outstanding freshman campaign, averaging 21.2 points per game so far this season. But a close contact with COVID kept Craig out of the gym this weekend as the Pacers squared off against two conference foes.

The Pacers were determined not to allow Craig's absence affect them. Switzerland led 5-2 early and 14-13 late in the first quarter and were still down only 19-18 heading to the second.

But Switzerland couldn't contain the Rebels for long. Mitch Mingione opened the second by splashing a pair of 3-pointers — the second an off-balance shot with a hand in his face — and Parker Davis took over the paint. The result was a dominating 16-0 run that not only blew open the game, but took the air out of the Pacers' sails.

"I thought we came out and made some shots and it kept us in the game. And then the shots weren't falling," Switzerland coach Bryce Wrightsman said. "They started really utilizing their size inside with with Parker Davis making some big buckets and then Mingione making some threes from the perimeter. When you have two guys that can score like they were, it can be tough."

Southwestern (8-5, 2-1 ORVC) led 40-27 after the second quarter after shooting 67% (16-for-24) from the floor. The Rebels cooled off slightly in the second half — albeit to just 55% — and still increased their margin to 55-37 after three quarters.

Overall, Southwestern hit 61% (27-for-44) of its shots from the floor — including 6-of-13 from long range — and 10-of-14

Southwestern swimmers broke three school records and Switzerland County set two new school marks at the Ohio River Valley Conference Swimming Championships in Vevay on Saturday.

The Rebels' Julia Worcester and Raygan Crawford combined for three school records and five wins to lead the girls team to a second-place finish.

Worcester, a senior, broke Susie Philipps' 11-year-old record in the 50-yard freestyle by three hundredths of a second while winning the event in 26.54. She then broke her own record in the 100 breaststroke, posting a winning time of 1:13.06.

Crawford, a freshman, broke her own record in the 100 backstroke with a winning time of 1:06.66.

"(Worcester) got to call Susie when we got on the bus to tell her. It's always fun to make those calls. She has been fine-tuning her (breast) stroke recently, and it paid off," Southwestern coach Jay Crawford said. "Raygan has been concentrating on her technique as well and got some great results."

Raygan Crawford also won the 100 butterfly in 1:06.17 and she joined with Worcester, Amiah Owen and Fabiana Orioli to win the 400 freestyle relay in 4:17.64.

Switzerland County's Nathan Furnish, Derek Hoskins Caleb Ridener and Adrian Armstrong teamed up to set a new school record in the 400 freestyle relay with a winning time of 3:39.13. Ridener then broke the school record in the 100 backstroke while placing third in 1:02.78.

Furnish also picked up two individual wins and another relay win and was named the ORVC MVP. Furnish won the 50 free in 24.42 and claimed the 100 free in 54.82. He then teamed with Hoskins, Ridener and Armstrong to win the 200 free relay in 1:44.70. Armstrong also won the 100 fly in 55.97.

Other top finishes for the Southwestern girls were: Orioli, second, 100 fly, 1:16.43 and second, 100 back, 1:12.49; Crawford, Worcester, Orioli and Owen, second, 200 medley relay, 2:09.79; Owen, third, 100 back, 1:17.34 and fourth, 200 free, 2:33.00; Audrey Bare, Larissa Garcia, Leni Konzack and Zoie Watson, third, 200 free relay, 2:27.60.

Southwestern's Adam Boley placed fifth in the boys 50 free in 29.88 while Braden Helton was fifth in the boys 100 back in 1:28.89.

"This was an unbelievable conference meet. Considering we are in the toughest part of our season from a practice standpoint, and we did not taper for the meet, we couldn't be happier," Southwestern coach Crawford said. "We have been laser-focused on technique and it showed this weekend. They are starting to understand that success is in the details. Once these kids are tapered and rested for sectionals in a few weeks we hope to see some epic times."

Other top finishes for the Switzerland boys were: Ridener, second, 200 free, 2:02.98; Armstrong, second, 200 IM, 2:06.81; Hoskins, second, 100 free, 57.03 and fourth, 100 breast, 1:18.44; and Tirso Martinez, fourth, 200 free, 2:20.61 and fourth, 500 free, 6:30.13.

Top finishes for the Switzerland girls were: Ava Cole, second, 200 IM, 2:47.66 and third, 100 fly, 1:18.93; Alisha Detmer, second, 50 free, 28.38 and third, 100 free, 1:03.37; Cole, Brooklyn Flanders, Kaelin Taylor and Detmer, second, 200 free relay, 1:59.87; Taylor, third, 200 free, 2:29.13 and third, 500 free, 6:35.14; Adair Miles, Cole, Carly Bennett and Detmer, fourth, 200 medley relay, 2:29.51; and Bennett, Flanders, Miles and Taylor, fourth, 400 free relay, 5:06.84.

Milan claimed the conference championship for both boys and girls. Milan scored 96 points to win the boys meet with Switzerland coming in second with 77, Rising Sun third with 42.5, South Ripley fourth with 9.5 and Southwestern fifth with seven points.

Milan scored 92 points to beat Southwestern's 78 in the girls meet. Switzerland was third with 50, Rising Sun was fourth with 39 and South Ripley was fifth with 16.

Southwestern returns to action on Thursday when it hosts Batesville and both Southwestern and Switzerland will compete in the Red Anderson Invitational at Southwestern on Saturday.

HANOVER SWEPT AT MANCHESTER

Hanover's swim teams suffered a pair of losses at Manchester, 86-58 in men's action and 92-61 in women's, on Saturday.

Top results for the Hanover men were: Dustin Wilson, first, 100 free, 51.88 and second, 50 free, 23.33; James Moll, first, 500 free, 5:26.25 and first, 100 back, 1:01.86; Moll, Will Morgan, William Harkins and Wilson, first, 400 medley relay, 4:13.37; Harkins, second, 200 free, 2:08.68; Morgan, second, 100 fly, 59.61 and third, 50 free, 24.09; and Davis Guthier, third, 100 fly, 1:06.04.

Top finishes for the Hanover women were: Megan Brandt, first, 1000 free, 12:38.49 and third, 100 back, 1:10.51; Ilys Anderson, first, 50 free, 27.44 and first, 100 free, 59.78; Kelli Brock, first, 100 fly, 1:08.08 and second, 50 free, 27.60; Brandt, Alaina Simmons, Brock and Anderson, first, 400 free relay, 4:07.42; and Simmons, second, 100 back, 1:06.27 and third, 50 free, 28.07.

Hanover returns to action on Friday, Jan. 28 when it hosts Rose-Hulman at Southwestern High School.

Shawe 2nd half rally falls short in loss to Trinity

BY JORDAN BEAR

The young Shawe Hilltoppers nearly fought all the way back from a 17-point halftime deficit only to run out of gas down the stretch and fall 63-53 to Trinity Lutheran at home on Friday night.

It appeared early on the veteran Cougars were going to cruise to the victory after pushing ahead 36-19 by halftime. But Shawe began to claw back into the game in the second half and at one point had a chance to tie the game with free throws.

But tired legs caught up with the Hilltoppers late and Trinity made late free throws to clinch the win.

"They're the defending sectional champions for a reason," Shawe coach Dan Hambrick said. "They go eight players deep, and they're seven seniors and one junior. They have a ton of experience, they're talented, and extremely well-coached. They're a tough team to beat, but I am proud of our guys for giving themselves a chance to get back in the game late."

It started off great for the Cougars, who built a 9-point lead (14-5) after one quarter and then proceeded to outscore Shawe 23-14 in the second quarter. Shawe opened the third quarter on fire behind the 3-point arc and picked up defensive intensity, too, which allowed the Hilltoppers to cut into the Trinity lead and trail only 46-37 heading into the final period.

Shawe maintained its intensity in the fourth and sliced the lead to four halfway through the period. The Hilltoppers had a golden opportunity to tie the game when the Cougars were hit with a technical foul. However, Philip Kahn, the team's best free throw shooter, missed both attempts from the line, and the Cougars regained control to hold on for the win.

Hambrick said he loved his team's fight but also knows there were some opportunities to win the game.

"I'm proud of the adjustments that we made. We knew something had to change at half, and we went with the smaller lineup and it worked," Hambrick said. "Our legs got tired and that's where our guys have to be in shape because the fourth quarter is huge. We missed some key free throws down the stretch because you could just see how tired their legs were. That's where our guys have to get in shape and work on conditioning because in games like that, you still have to have something in the tank."

Chloe Preocanin

Kahn finished with 28 points to lead all scorers while Jack Grote scored 14. Mitchell Hackman led Trinity with 14 points and Sage Broughton chipped in 13.

Shawe, now 5-6 on the season, will return to action on Friday night when the Toppers face the top team in the Ohio River Valley Conference, Class A No. 7 Jac-Cen-Del, on the road.

"They're a top 10 team in the state and they're the best team in the conference," Hambrick said. "We know it's going to be tough. They're big, they're strong, and they can score everywhere on the floor. I hope my guys come out with the same intensity all game that they did in the second half tonight."

Southwestern's Gross breezes to 120 title at SIWC Tournament of Champions

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Southwestern's Keegan Gross brought home a championship and three other local wrestlers finished on the podium at the 17-team Southern Indiana Tournament of Champions event at Southwestern on Saturday.

Gross had little trouble rolling to the title at 120 pounds. Now 31-1 on the season, Gross picked up a forfeit win in the opening round and then pinned Crawford County's Elijah Polen, in 19 seconds, and Switzerland County's Chazz Hartley, in 3:51, in the next two rounds to reach the finals.

In the championship, Gross battled with Henry Lovan of Providence for two periods and entered the third tied at 4-4. However, Gross quickly got an escape and then a reversal for three points later to eventually seize the 9-4 win.

Gross' teammate, Elijah Weatherbee, nearly won a title of his own at 126 pounds. Weatherbee (15-6) opened his tournament with a forfeit win then pinned New Washington's Easton Nichols in 1:07 and Scottsburg's Trey Smith in 27 seconds to reach the finals.

Weatherbee hung tough with Charlestown's Austin Tullis but got caught and Tullis was able to claim the fall in 1:53.

Two Switzerland County Pacers finished third in the meet.

Hartley (22-12) picked up a forfeit win in the opening round at 120 pounds then posted a fall in 1:49 over West Washington's Jaden Griffith. After his loss to Gross in the semifinals, Hartley battled back by picking up a fall in 2:00 over Borden's Dylan Allen in the consolation semifinals, then pinning Elijah Brosmer of Forest Park in 1:54 to take third place.

Gabe Rose (32-2) scored a forfeit win in the opening round at 138 pounds then pinned Clarksville's Ryan Bahena in 23 seconds to reach the semifinals. He then suffered just his second loss of the season, a fall in 1:11 to Jakob Lewellen of Charlestown, but he regrouped to pin Forest Park's Jake Dooley in 54 seconds and Silver Creek's Cole Bagshaw in 4:22 to claim third.

Southwestern's Cain Weatherbee was the only other local wrestler to place, finishing sixth at 160 pounds. The Rebels' Aiden Smith picked up one win and lost twice at 152 pounds and Trevor Wood had two wins and two losses at 170 pounds. Switzerland's Bryson Reynolds had two wins and two losses at 152 pounds.

Charlestown scored 254 points and claimed the team title with Scottsburg second with 199.5 and North Harrison third with 154.5. Southwestern finished 12th with 76 points and Switzerland was 15th with 50 points.

Switzerland returns to action today when it hosts Scottsburg. Both teams will then compete in the Milan Invitational on Saturday.

Owen starts quickly in 74-28 rout of Trimble County

BY OLIVIA GENNARO
THE TRIMBLE BANNER

Trimble County fell to All "A" Classic Eighth Region champion Owen County 74-28 in girls basketball Friday at home.

The game started off with a celebration for Owen County, as Lexie Moore hit a 3-pointer to break her school's career scoring record.

Jolie Wilcoxson scored the first basket early on for the Raiders, but Trimble struggled to get shots against the Rebels and each time Owen gained possession of a miss, they quickly passed to the other end of the court — often before Trimble's defense could even arrive — to score in what ended up being an exhibition of fastbreak basketball for a crushing 26-2 first quarter lead.

The second quarter continued in much the same fashion. Addison Edmondson scored Trimble's second basket of the game — followed immediately by another big Rebel run of 19-straight points — before Trinity Crawford connected on a basket just before halftime as Trimble trailed 49-6.

Trimble came back stronger in the second half, aided by free throws. Edmondson was fouled twice early on in the third quarter and made all four shots to nearly double the Raiders' output.

Olivia Gennaro

Gracie Jent managed to steal the ball and dribble in for a score and Wilcoxson, Danielle Craig and Edmondson were all fouled with Wilcoxson and Edmondson making both of their free throws. After a 3-pointer by Jent, the Raiders still trailed 63-20 at the end of the third quarter.

The final quarter saw more fouls on both sides but fewer gains. Payton Butters and Edmondson scored early baskets. Jent had a basket after a missed free throw and freshman Hannah Chilton also got in the scorebook.

"We did a little better job the second half of trying to work on some things that we need to work on to be better against the teams with whom we can compete, and so I'm proud of our girls for that," Trimble coach Kerrie Stewart said. "We'll take this one, we'll try to learn from it, and be ready for Carroll County Tuesday evening."

Edmondson lead the Raiders in scoring with 10 points, six of which came from the free-throw line, while Jent had eight points, Wilcoxson four and Chilton, Butters and Crawford two points each.

"I'm just proud of all of them," Stewart said. "They didn't quit, they didn't get their heads down, and it would have been easy to have done that in a game like this."

Trimble County, now 1-16 on the season, falls to 1-5 in the North Central Kentucky Conference and 1-4 in 31st District play. The Raiders host Carroll County on Tuesday as part of a boys-girls doubleheader and travel to Eminence on Friday.

Hanover men cruise to 76-58 win over Manchester

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Hanover men's basketball opened up a game and a half lead in the Heartland Collegiate Athletic Conference standings with a dominating 76-58 win over Manchester at home on Saturday.

The Panthers, now 11-2 overall, improved to 7-1 in HCAC play. Rose-Hulman sits in second place at 5-2 while Manchester and Anderson are currently 5-3.

Hanover used a big first half to roll to the win. The Panthers hit eight 3-pointers and shot 56% from the floor overall in the first half while building a 47-28 halftime lead. Manchester actually outscored Hanover by one in the second half but the damage had been done.

Max Greenamoyer hit five 3-pointers and scored a career-high 21 points to lead Hanover. He also had eight rebounds. Ty Houston had 16 points while Isaac Hibbard just missed a triple-double, scoring 13 points, grabbing 11 rebounds and dishing out eight assists.

C.J. Hampton led Manchester with 19 points.

Hanover goes on the road Wednesday when it visits Transylvania (8-5, 3-3 HCAC). The Panthers then travel to Bluffton (5-7, 1-4 HCAC) on Saturday.

WOMEN ROLL PAST MANCHESTER

Hanover had little trouble with Manchester, rolling to a 72-47 win in women's basketball Saturday at home.

Hanover won every quarter, including a 24-12 run to start the game that sent the Panthers on to victory. Overall, Hanover shot just 41% (27-for-66) from the floor, but limited Manchester to 30% shooting while forcing 24 turnovers.

Grace Bezold had 14 points and six rebounds to lead Hanover while Callie Wilder came off the bench to score 14 points and had five rebounds. Katherine Benter had 12 points and Anna Bauer had four points and 11 rebounds.

Hanover, now 7-5 overall, improves to 4-3 in the HCAC. The Panthers host undefeated Transylvania (12-0, 4-0 HCAC) on Wednesday.

The Defenders opened the tournament with a 71-65 win over Bloomington Lighthouse then knocked off host Columbus Christian 59-53 in the semifinals. In the championship, CAM suffered a 54-51 loss to Union (Dugger).

Christian Academy, now 9-7 on the season, travels to Laurel Christian tonight and hosts Covington Latin on Friday.

Bengals hold on, finally win in playoffs 26-19 over Raiders

BY BARRY WILNER
AP PRO FOOTBALL WRITER

CINCINNATI — Paul Brown Stadium nearly shook in triumph. The city of Cincinnati might have, too.

Its latest hero, Bengals quarterback Joe Burrow, merely seemed to shrug after leading his team to its first playoff victory in 31 years, 26-19 over Las Vegas on Saturday in an AFC wild-card game.

"It's exciting for the city, for the state, but we are not going to dwell on that, we are moving forward," said Burrow, who threw two touchdown passes. "This is expected, this isn't like the icing on top of the cake, this is the cake. So we are moving on."

Burrow led an efficient offense that scored on six drives, Evan McPherson became the first rookie to make four field goals without a miss in a postseason debut, and Germaine Pratt sealed it with a fourth-down interception in the dying seconds.

It was a victory three decades in the making for the Bengals (11-7). After going from worst to first in the AFC North with a generally young roster, they ended that embarrassingly long postseason drought that included eight consecutive defeats.

"Who Dey" indeed.

Coach Zac Taylor said game balls were going to team owner Mike Brown and to the city itself.

"Some of them might not understand the significance of what happened today," he said of his players. "The city can finally enjoy ... this team and take the pressure off of the last 31 years. Today was significant for a lot of people."

Their next opponent will be top seed Tennesse on Saturday.

"It's going to be fun tomorrow to watch the games knowing we have the win," said Burrow, the top overall selection in the 2020 draft who led the NFL in completion percentage this season. He went 24 for 34 for 244 yards Saturday.

Helped by some problematic officiating by Jerome Boger's crew that might have allowed Burrow's touchdown pass to Tyler Boyd to count when it shouldn't have, the Bengals also extended a lengthy postseason drought for the Raiders (10-8). Las Vegas, which won its final four games to squeeze into the playoffs, last won in the postseason in the 2002 AFC championship game.

Berger, Gulbe help Indiana women top Purdue in OT

BY MARK AMBROGI
ASSOCIATED PRESS

WEST LAFAYETTE — Indiana coach Teri Moren knows she can always count on one thing.

"As long as there is time on the clock, we are always going to be in the game," Moren said. "The people in that locker room will not quit."

Grace Berger scored 24 points and Aleksa Gulbe added 21 as the sixth-ranked Hoosiers rallied to beat Purdue 73-68 in overtime Sunday.

The Hoosiers (14-2, 6-0 Big Ten), who were without two starters, overcame an eight-point deficit in the final 3 ½ minutes of regulation.

Tied at 60, Indiana scored the first six points of OT on 3s by Gulbe and Ali Patberg and went on to win its ninth in a row.

"We had a shot, they just made a couple more plays than we did," Boilermakers coach Katie Gearlds said. "We needed to get stops and we didn't do that. Their big-time players made big-time plays for them down the stretch. They're (No. 6) for a reason."

Abbey Ellis scored 19 and Brooke Moore 18 points for Purdue (11-6, 2-4). Madison Layden added 15 points, but made just 5 of 15 shots.

Berger hit a short jumper in the lane to give Indiana a 60-59 lead with 8 seconds left in the fourth quarter. Berger said the play was designed for Gulbe but she wasn't open, so she took the shot.

Ellis was fouled and hit the second of two free throws with 1.4 seconds left to send it into overtime.

Washington helps Kentucky rout Tennessee

BY GARY B. GRAVES
ASSOCIATED PRESS

LEXINGTON — Just winning would have been fitting enough to honor the passing of a Kentucky coaching great.

The No. 18 Wildcats took that objective a step further, doing it convincingly with near-perfect offense thanks to a defense that created plenty of easy chances.

Freshman TyTy Washington Jr. scored a career-high 28 points, Sahvir Wheeler returned from injury to add 21 points and Kentucky shot a season-high 68% to blow out No. 22 Tennessee 107-79 on Saturday.

The Wildcats (14-3, 4-1 Southeastern Conference) rolled the Volunteers on an emotional day that began with news of the death of former Kentucky coach Joe B. Hall at 93.

Hall led the program to its fourth national championship in 1978. He was close with current Kentucky coach John Calipari, who paid tribute to his friend and mentor by gripping a rolled-up program and starting in a 1-3-1 defense against their border rivals.

Kentucky then unleashed its most energetic performance this season before its biggest crowd in a while, an effort helped by the return of point guard Wheeler from a neck injury. The Wildcats made their first five shots and 22 of 28 by halftime, with their 78.6% shooting tying a program record set in the first half against Mississippi on Jan. 14, 1981 (11 of 14).

"We wanted to win, and it's a ranked opponent," Calipari said. "I told them we got a ways to go but this was a step and look, I thought Tennessee played well offensively. They did some good stuff.

"But we were so good offensively, passing it, extra plays. They stretched out their defense and we're a driving, shoot (a) floater kind of team. That's what we are, and it kind of worked in our favor."

Especially for Washington, who scored Kentucky's first basket to jump start a 14-5 lead. He finished 10 of 13 from the field, including 2 of 4 from beyond the arc, topping his previous high of 20 points last matched against Western Kentucky on Dec. 22.

Kentucky teammates followed Washington's lead, with all but one player shooting 50% or better from the field.

"We really just can't rely on Oscar (Tshiebwe) all the time to try to carry us all the time in big games," Washington said in reference to Kentucky's top scorer and rebounder. "A lot of other guys, we've got to step up as a whole. We all pinpoint that, and I think that helped us today. We all stepped up and executed."

Kentucky's accuracy held up for nearly 30 minutes before cooling off slightly and finishing 38 of 56 from the field. Kentucky also went 20 for 21 from the foul line to end a two-game home slide against the Volunteers (11-5, 2-3).

Kentucky reached the century mark for the second time this season with 2:31 left and posted its highest output since scoring 107 against Illinois-Chicago on Nov. 26, 2017. It's also the Wildcats' most against an Associated Press Top 25 team since scoring 107 against Vanderbilt on Jan. 4, 1994.

Wheeler, who made 8 of 10 from the field, added, "If we play like this, we won't be having too many more Ls."

from the free-throw line. Rebounding was even at 26-26, but the Pacers had five more turnovers (15-10).

Mingione tied his career-high with 21 points on 6-of-7 shooting from the arc. Davis had 20 points on 8-of-11 shooting and added 11 rebounds while Zach Cole had 17 points, seven rebounds and four assists.

"It was great to get Parker and Matt going again. Once you saw a couple of shots going down, you could see the confidence go up," Nussbaum said. "It's great to see."

Jacob Williams had 18 points and five rebounds to lead Switzerland while Ben Hicks scored 15 points.

On Saturday, Switzerland (5-8, 0-2 ORVC) suffered another ORVC loss when it fell 67-41 at home to South Ripley. Hicks scored 12 points to lead the Pacers while Williams scored nine and Bryce Wrightsman had eight points.

Southwestern's home game against Rock Creek, scheduled to be played tonight, has been moved to Friday. The Rebels will then travel to Austin on Saturday.

Switzerland County heads to Rising Sun on Friday and to Trinity Lutheran on Saturday.

BERGER

"Abbey is a competitor and she is going to beat herself up," said Gearlds, adding there were plenty of other plays that could have changed the outcome.

Purdue led 55-47 after Ellis sank a 3-pointer with 3:21 left in the fourth quarter. Indiana cut the lead to 57-55 on Berger's basket with 28 seconds left.

After Layden hit two free throws for Purdue, Patberg sank a 3-pointer to pull Indiana within 59-58 with 19 seconds left.

"First and foremost, we were trying to stay calm," Berger said. "We were trying to get stops. We never gave up."

Moren said Berger's play was big down the stretch and Patberg hit some big shots late after struggling early. Patberg was 4 of 16 from the field.

"As I said to my kids, they all had to make a play at some point, whether scoring or getting a big defensive stop or a steal," Moren said.

The Hoosiers were without Mackenzie Holmes, who was sidelined with a knee injury for the second consecutive game. Holmes, a 6-foot-3 forward, averages a team-high 17.9 points. Kiandra Browne started in her spot.

Indiana also were without starter Nicole Cardano-Hillary, who was out because of COVID-19 protocols. Chloe Moore-McNeil made her first career start in Cardano-Hillary's place.

"It was a fantastic battle between these two teams," Moren said. "Give Purdue credit, they gave us everything we can handle."

Purdue led 32-27 at halftime as Moren said her team struggled offensively in the opening half.

BIG PICTURE

Indiana: The short-handed Hoosiers' fortunes might rely on how soon Holmes and Cardano-Hillary can return. Another concern is Patberg rolled her ankle after the 3-pointer in overtime and had to come out of the game.

Purdue: The Boilermakers were looking to bounce back after a disappointing 13-point home loss to visiting Iowa on Thursday, but fell short.

BIG TIME ATMOSPHERE

Both coaches were impressed by the crowd of more than 8,000.

"I played here for four years and I'm sure there was a student section like that," Purdue coach Katie Gearalds said. "That was big time and we fed off the energy."
